Dear Admissions Committee,

It is a pleasure to recommend Tsion Dejene as an applicant candidate for your university. Tsion has been one of the outstanding students I have ever encountered in my career. I have taught her mathematics since her sophomore classes and during these years I have witnessed her interest and success in her academic pursuits.

Tsion is an accountable, reliable and assertive student. She is one of the rarest and intellectual students I have taught. She brings great dynamism to the classroom and works with utter diligence. She is a problem solver and doesn't give up whenever she gets stuck. Her ability to solve things and the way she questions details is pure genius. She asks major questions in sub-topics that helps me shape the syllabus accordingly.

Even though she has the highest grades she always strives for self-betterment and I see the effect it has on her and the class. She also helped those around her with no hesitation and addressed any improvement that should be addressed making the classroom an ideal environment to learn in.

Her active participation in class is admirable. She is the kind of student that is not hesitant say her mind, she believes she came to class to learn and she doesn't leave without getting what she came for.

She persevered through the COVID years, showing her great ability to be flexible during tough times. She is regarded as one of the greatest students the school has ever seen and I am certain that she will find success in her future endeavors.

Tsion has my complete recommendation, as I have an absolute faith that she has the potential to be a fitting addition to your university. She has demonstrated excellence in all that she puts her mind to and I am sure that she will succeed in any path she chooses to take.
